As we near the end of another busy season, we want to recognize our employees for their hard work, dedication, & teamwork shown throughout these past months. This season brought long days, changing schedules, fast-paced operations, & plenty of challenges, but your commitment helped make it a success. Your efforts do not go unnoticed. We hope you all enjoy some downtime & have some fun this summer!

“I wanted to make you aware of the excellent performance given by Robert King and Marcus Washington supporting our Vogtle-3 tube inspection project. I rarely write these as there is always an “expected level” of performance/expertise covering our subcontractors. In this case, the performance/expertise levels were exceeded & greatly appreciated. Robert and Marcus displayed levels of commitment & professionalism I usually see with our in-house veterans. They should both be commended & are at the top of my “request list” for subcontractor personnel.
